Rank

CAMPAIGN PLAN · NOVEMBER TO DECEMBER 2026

Money Circles

The story, the plan and the numbers.

01 · WHO WE ARE

Rank exists to make prosperity common.

A CBN-licensed wealth management platform with offices in Lagos and San Francisco.

We started as Moni. Today, as Rank, we build the tools that help people prosper, at whatever level they're at.

- CBN-licensed via Rank MFB
- NDIC-insured
- NIBSS-connected

THE FULL MONEY JOURNEY

- Smart Account — with RankTag
- Savings — Goals, Flex, Reserve
- Money Circles — Zero-interest capital
- Tribe — Group money
- Rank Perks — For employers
- Rank Ultra — Wealth management

We didn't just change our name. We changed how people find us.

At the start of the year, Moni became Rank. The goal was a brand that stands out: one people come to, instead of us chasing them. We had three audiences to win.

01

The ecosystem

Founders, operators, partners and regulators.

02

Investors

The people who fund what comes next.

03

Consumers

The people we're ultimately building for.

03 · A DELIBERATE CHOICE

Why not consumers first? Shouting before you're ready is expensive.

NO PRODUCT TO POINT TO

Consumer awareness would have ended in one question: "So what does Rank actually do?"

CHURN WAITING TO HAPPEN

High transfer costs and no NIBSS connection meant anyone we pulled in would leave just as fast.

Awareness without a product is money spent twice: once to get people in, and again to win them back.

04 · ECOSYSTEM + INVESTORS

So we spoke to the rooms that mattered first.

Our PR lived where the industry reads

TechCrunch

TechCabal

Pan-African business & tech

Not B2C blogs. Not lifestyle pages.

"I can't find Rank in the news."

That's why you might have heard this. The stories were there. They just weren't written for your aunty's WhatsApp.

05 · IT WORKED

"I know Rank. What is Rank doing next?"

That is what the ecosystem says about us now. We're known, we're credible, and we have a seat at the table.

06 · WHAT CHANGES NOW

Awareness doesn't put money in our pockets. Customers do.

Today we finally have:

- ✓ A product that's different in the market
- ✓ The rails to back it: Rank MFB, NIBSS-connected
- ✓ A clear picture of who we're talking to

PHASE TWO

Acquisition.

07 · THE PROBLEM

Nigeria is young. Capital is expensive.

18.3

median age. One of the youngest countries on earth.

95%

of young people have a smartphone

300%

how far loan apps have pushed interest up

A generation full of plans, and the only fast money on offer costs a fortune.

So people borrow to chase a goal, then end up chasing the interest instead. A lot of that frustration feeds the japa conversation.

And for most people, it isn't even on the table.

~10%
of adults reach formal credit, against a 40% national target

10.6%
can raise ₦156,000 in a week without difficulty

30.7%
of formally included adults are financially healthy

Access to a bank account is largely solved. Access to capital isn't. Banks want collateral young earners don't have yet, and borrowing now leans to coping, not building.

09 · THE ALTERNATIVE NIGERIANS ALREADY TRUST

Ajo has been great. Ajo has a problem.

For generations, ajo is how Nigerians got lump sums at zero interest, long before any bank would lend to them. It runs on community and trust. But lately it's been all over the timeline for the wrong reasons.

WHAT'S BROKEN IN AJO	HOW MONEY CIRCLES FIXES IT
The admin can run off with the money	No admin. Rank, a regulated institution, holds the funds
Members default and others lose out	Rank guarantees every payout. You answer only for yourself
You need to find "your people" first	Join an existing circle. No need to know anyone
Groups mix very different incomes	Pick a circle that matches what you can afford
Late slots just get their own money back	Late collectors get their money plus a bonus
Everything lives in a WhatsApp group	Everything lives in the app, tracked and automatic

10 · THE SOLUTION

Money Circles. Ajo, done properly.

We took the best part of ajo, people pooling money to help each other move forward, and added technology. The result is zero-interest capital through a system Nigerians already trust.

HOW IT WORKS

Collect ₦100,000 today. Pay back ₦10,000 a month for 10 months. That's it.

Zero interest
Just a small admin fee.

Guaranteed
Rank stands behind every payout.

Waiting pays
Late slots get a bonus.

Proven
Pilot: ₦16B paid to 10,000 people.

How we talk about Money Circles

LEAD LINE

Zero-interest capital.

THE STORY WE'RE TELLING

Ajo has been great. Ajo has a problem. So we took the best of ajo, added technology, and built Money Circles.

How we say it

Comical and relatable. We're not lecturing anybody.

The problem solved, not how great the product is.

Show how to use it, because understanding is what converts.

Never call it a loan. Never mock ajo.

Four channels, one story.

01

PR & publications

Keep the story at a high level. Third-party voices explain Money Circles everywhere.

02

Content

Four tiers, led by a family hero series that makes the product feel human.

03

Influencers

Layi Wasabi at the top, plus micro and UGC creators across many personas.

04

Growth

Paid ads on Meta, TikTok, Google and Snap. 2,000 sign-ups a day for 50 days.

Keep the story high. Let others tell it.

PR started this week.
Full campaign live 2 November.

THE ENGINE

Commissioned writers. Many publications.

We commission writers to write about Money Circles on our behalf, then push their pieces to multiple publications. Readers meet the product through a third party, not an ad, so they understand it and trust it.

CONSUMER-FIRST THIS TIME

Last time we spoke to the industry. This time we're where the people are: business, lifestyle and street-level media.

PR SUB-MESSAGE

Zero-interest capital.

People need to know they can get capital at zero interest. Never call it a loan.

OUR VOICES

Femi Iromioni (CEO) on capital and japa. Andrew (Head of Investment) on how the model works and why it lasts.

TIER 2

TIER 4

Influencer

Creators telling the story in their own voice, to audiences that already trust them.

Builds trust

The son everybody has written off.

Always at home, always on his phone, always announcing a new career. What his family doesn't see: a quiet video-editing hustle, a Money Circle, and a plan. They keep mistaking his calm for foolishness, until they realise he's been figuring life out.

Tunde, 24–26. Unbothered outside, observant underneath. Earns from his phone and an old laptop.

Dad, 55. Hausa. A professional doubter. "What exactly do you do?"

Mum, 50. Igbo. Loving, prayerful, and burned by ajo before.

Amina, 28. The family CCTV. Always one question away from exposing him.

WHY THIS FAMILY

A Hausa father and an Igbo mother raising their children in Lagos. Every Nigerian sees themselves in this house. It's ajo to one, esusu to another, adashe up north.

Money Circles doesn't hand Tunde free money. He earns, contributes, collects early and keeps paying. That's the real story.

Six episodes, one running joke

"Daddy nauuu!"

01
DJ Tunde
A full DJ setup wakes the house. "Who gave you this equipment?" "I bought it."

02
Skating Is a Lifestyle
Tunde skips church and glides past the family car on a brand-new skateboard.

03
Premium Studio
Amina finds him in the studio she saved for weeks to book. He finally explains Money Circles.

04
Mum's Turn
It's her week to collect, and the ajo woman stops picking up. Dad: "Didn't I tell you?"

05
Who Told You I Joined?
The professional doubter has quietly joined a circle, and taken a late slot.

06
Me, I'm Building Here
His best friend Femi is leaving Nigeria. Can you really build your dream here? Tunde says yes.

This is where the story lives.

Ads get us seen. Creators get us understood. They're how Money Circles goes from "another fintech app" to "my guy explained it and I joined."

01
Control the narrative and context

02
Show exactly how it works

03
Speak through many personas

We set the story. Creators make it theirs.

Ajo is already trending, mostly for the wrong reasons. If we don't frame Money Circles, the timeline will. Every creator gets the same story and the same guardrails, then tells it in their own voice to an audience that already trusts them.

HOW EVERY PIECE GETS MADE

Nothing goes live without written approval. That is how we keep the context right on every post.

THE TIMELINE

This week

Monday 2 November
Day 1. The big guns roll out: hero series, creators and full ad spend.

Monday 21 December
Day 50. 100,000 sign-ups.

Meta, TikTok, Google and Snap. Each one has a job.

BACKBONE

Meta

Audience: 18–35 urban Nigeria, broad + lookalikes

Creative: creator partnership ads, stat-led carousels, testimonial reels

Job: scale and retargeting across Facebook and Instagram

CHEAPEST

TikTok

Audience: young, fast, trend-led

Creative: comedy skits, Layi's GNCC piece as Spark ads, UGC, hero clips

Job: lowest cost per sign-up, so it carries the most volume

INSTALLS

Google

Audience: strongest on Android, big on iOS and Android installs

Creative: app campaigns optimised to sign-up, not install; search on "ajo" and "loan app alternative"

Job: catch people already looking

BEST VALUE

Snap

Audience: iOS-heavy

Creative: short vertical story ads, creator cut-downs

Job: more expensive to acquire, but these users take action the most, so they're worth more per sign-up

₦55M in ads, ₦1.1M a day

PLATFORM	SHARE	SPEND	PER DAY	TARGET CPA	SIGN-UPS	PER DAY
TikTok	35%	₦19.25M	₦385K	₦400	48,125	963
Meta	35%	₦19.25M	₦385K	₦550	35,000	700
Google	20%	₦11M	₦220K	₦700	15,714	314
Snap	10%	₦5.5M	₦110K	₦900	6,111	122
Total	100%	₦55M	₦1.1M	₦524	104,950	2,099

Honest read: our Ads plan's starting estimates are higher (TikTok ₦550, Meta ₦750, Google ₦950, Snap ₦1,150), which would land about 77,000 sign-ups. We close the gap with creator content running as ads, sign-ups from PR, influencers and referrals, and moving budget to winners every week.

Learn, launch, scale, peak

THIS WEEK

Learn

26 Oct – 1 Nov

Set up all four platforms and tracking. Every ad we've created so far goes live. The learning phase takes 3 to 7 days, so it's passed by Monday.

DAYS 1–14

Launch

2 – 15 Nov

The big guns roll out. Hero series, Layi and the micro creators go live, and their content runs as Spark and partnership ads. We find our real CPA per platform.

DAYS 15–35

Scale

16 Nov – 6 Dec

Rent season. Budget moves to the winning platforms and creatives every week. UGC Phase 2 fuels fresh ads.

DAYS 36–50

Peak

7 – 21 Dec

Detty December. Heaviest push on the "next move" call-outs. We watch Q4 ad inflation, since every advertiser is bidding for the same inventory.

The rule: if a platform can't get near its target CPA by the end of week one, its budget moves to the ones that can. We don't wait.

What every sign-up costs us

What is CAC?

Customer acquisition cost = what we spend ÷ the customers it brings in ₦550

Paid CAC ceiling per sign-up
₦55M ads ÷ 100,000 sign-ups

₦950

Blended CAC per sign-up
₦95M total campaign ÷ 100,000 sign-ups

₦4,750

CAC per active circle
₦95M total campaign ÷ 20,000 circles

WHAT WE TRACK

Awareness: reach, video completion, trend participation

Consideration: attributed installs, sign-ups

Conversion: circles joined, first contribution made

Advocacy: referrals sent, organic reposts

WEEKLY SCORECARD, FROM DAY ONE

Spend · sign-ups · CPA per platform · cost per KYC-complete user · sign-ups to active circles

Every day counts.

32 · WHERE WE LANDED

We considered "Ajo, no wahala." We're not using it.

It was strong on the timeline, but ajo isn't one culture. It means different things, and goes by different names, across Nigeria. A national campaign needs one line that every culture can own.

Ajo

in the west

Esusu

in the east

Adashe

in the north

So we went bigger than ajo. We went with what every Nigerian has: somewhere they're trying to get to.

Power your next move.

Rank exists to make prosperity common. Money Circles is how we help people power their dreams: zero-interest capital for the move they've been planning.

Anybody can have a next move. Anybody can be going somewhere.

01
The student: a master's in the UK

02
The upgrade: that iPhone 18

03
The hustler: a laptop for the work

04
The mover: out of your parents' house

05
The founder: starting the business

Want to rent your own place and move out of your parents' house? Use Money Circles.

PR: zero-interest capital to power the move.

Hero series: Tunde's next move, and the family that doubts it.

Influencers: every persona, a different next move.

Growth: call-out ads for students, business, iPhone, rent.

Whatever your next move is, Rank is there to help you power it.
